

BIOGANIX

PRESS RELEASE

7 March 2005

NEW LINE ON COMPOSTING

Innovative composting producer, Bioganix Limited, is set for more success with the commissioning of a new line in April 2005.

Managing a unique method of composting waste from food processing companies, Bioganix are installing a new compost production vessel. The new vessel, designed to further improve odour control and enhance efficiency, will be commissioned early this April.

Managing Director of Bioganix, Nick Helme, is keen to get the new line in use. 'We will have better handling and throughput with the revised vessel design, which will enable us to manage the increasing orders for food waste management even more effectively' commented Nick.

The investment for the new line at half a million pounds reflects the confidence in Bioganix's future as a specialist in food waste management.

Notes:

Bioganix Limited is based in Herefordshire and is part of the successful 7Y Services Group. Bioganix has been handling and composting foodstuffs waste since 2002 and received the Bulmers Award for sustainable innovation in the countryside in that year. Serving the food processing industry, Bioganix specializes in handling Category 3 waste and is approved and licenced by the State Veterinary Services and the Environmental Agency.

For further information contact:

Nick Helme or Nigel Box at Bioganix

T 01568 610033

E info@bioganix.co.uk

W www.bioganix.co.uk

Wharton Court
Leominster
Herefordshire
HR6 0NX